

Fishbowl Offers Virtual On-site Training

In light of the coronavirus, we at Fishbowl want to assure you that we are fully equipped to offer virtual on-site training. This allows you to receive high-quality training from our experts while also staying safe. There are several advantages to doing a virtual on-site training:

- It's usually quick to schedule.
- It doesn't require anything extra on your part.
- Rather than scheduling remote training one hour at a time, you get 8 consecutive training hours for 2+ days.

As long as you have a camera-capable device (e.g., laptop, tablet, smartphone), that's all you need to gain access to a Fishbowl expert for a virtual on-site training. They can virtually tour your facility and offer tailored training for your company's processes. Fishbowl has advanced cameras and other equipment to conduct focused training sessions from our main office, so you can get exactly what you need from us fast and with laser precision.
